2022 Edition

IATSE 21 DAY CHALLENGE

Welcome to the 2022 IATSE Racial Justice 21-Day Habit Forming Challenge. The IATSE celebrates Black History Month 2022 and to get it started we launch our second 21-Day Challenge collection. The original 21-day challenge was created by Dr. Eddie Moore, Jr. https://www.eddiemoorejr.com/.

The 21-Day Challenge structure offers an opportunity for IATSE membership to expand our understanding of diversity, equity, and inclusion. During the challenge, participants read, listen, observe, or watch something every day for 21 consecutive days to further their understanding of power, privilege, racism, exclusion, and equity. The structure is designed to learn individually and when many union members do this as one, we learn together.

This year the theme of Black History Month is "Black Health and Wellness." This collection aims to give a broad exposure to history, policy, insights, trends, and challenges while integrating issues of health and wellness. The IATSE's first 21-Day Challenge laid the groundwork for learning about racial justice. If you have not experienced it, you can mesh the two lists to create a challenge that suits you and your group. Download the original challenge from the Education section of the IATSE website at https://iatse.net/education/.

"Our needs are identical with labor's needs, decent wages, fair working conditions, livable housing, old age security, health and welfare measures, conditions in which families can grow, have education for their children and respect in the community."
